Here are the correct answers for each sentence with explanations:

1. Adelina vive en el ...
- Answer: bosque
- Explanation: The correct word here is bosque (forest), which is singular and masculine. The other options, casas (houses) and Amaravati (a place), do not fit in this context.

2. Adelina es ... niña pequeña.
- Answer: una
- Explanation: Use una because niña is feminine and singular. Un and unos are for masculine and plural nouns respectively, which don't match here.

3. Jasmine ... una niña pequeña.
- Answer: es
- Explanation: The verb es (is) agrees with Jasmine (third-person singular subject) and is used with descriptions like age, personality, and state.

4. A Cascarrias le ... el bosque.
- Answer: gusta
- Explanation: In this context, gusta is used to express that something is liked. El bosque (the forest) is singular, so we use gusta (singular) rather than gustan (plural).

5. Rohit y Krishna son unos niños ...
- Answer: pequeños
- Explanation: Niños is plural and masculine, so the adjective pequeños (small) must agree in both gender (masculine) and number (plural).

6. A Cascarrias le ... los árboles.
- Answer: gustan
- Explanation: Los árboles (the trees) is plural, so we use gustan to agree with the plural subject.

7. Adelina tiene un gato ... gato se llama Cascarrias.
- Answer: su
- Explanation: Su is the possessive adjective for third-person singular, referring to something that belongs to Adelina (her cat).

8. Ella es ... Amaravati y tiene ... gato color canela.
- Answer: de ... un
- Explanation: The correct preposition here is de (from) to indicate origin, and un is used for the masculine singular noun gato.

9. Cascarrias no puede ... al bosque.
- Answer: ir
- Explanation: The correct verb here is ir (to go). The verb ir follows puede (can), so it stays in the infinitive form.

10. ... la casa de Adelina hay ... manzano.
- Answer: junto a ... un
- Explanation: The correct phrase is junto a (next to) and un manzano (an apple tree), because manzano is masculine and singular.

Summary of Rules:
- Gender Agreement: Adjectives and articles must agree with the noun in both gender and number (masculine/feminine, singular/plural).
- Verb Agreement: Ensure that verbs (like gustar) are conjugated based on the number (singular/plural) of the subject.
- Possessive Adjectives: Use su for third-person singular possession (her, his, its).
- Prepositions: Be careful with prepositions like de (from) or en (in), depending on the context.
